SMALL POX WARNING!

All physicians in the health district over which Dr. W. T. Clayton of Morrisville is health officer have received the following warning from him: "There is an extensive epidemic of small pox in Ontario, also, many cases in Montreal and we naturally expect that cases may appear in this state. Will you please be on the lookout for it?"

Art Exhibit Attracts Crowd.

The exhibit of copies of the great pictures of world artists of renown in Alumni hall, Friday evening, attracted many people, who spent much time and took a great deal of pleasure in viewing these splendid photographic reproductions, some of them in colors, of the great pictures of the world. The program of music also added much to the evening's entertainment.

The proceeds received from admission tickets will go to defray the expenses of getting the exhibit here, and anything left over will go for the purchase of pictures for the school building. Several individuals in town have purchased and will give to the school some of these pictures and it is hoped others will see fit to do so, for the constant view of many of these subjects cannot but have its influence upon the coming and going of the student body year after year.

It is regretted that the lack of space forbids giving a list of the pictures in this issue. The hall was kept open Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon to visitors and many availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting the exhibit.

Buy a picture for the school.

JOHN LAWRENCE DIED OF HEART FAILURE

Orleans Hunter Was Not Lost in Essex County Forests. Died Day He Left Camp and Traveled But Few Miles.

Most stories regarding the death of John Lawrence while hunting in the Essex county forests last week are untrue. An autopsy performed on the body at Orleans Tuesday afternoon shows that Mr. Lawrence died of heart failure, and the facts of the finding of the body bear out this fact. Mr. Lawrence and his brother-in-law, Edward Grow, were in a Griffith & Carpenter lumber camp in Norton for the hunting season. On Tuesday M. Grow got wet and tired and decided on Wednesday not to hunt. Mr. Lawrence went out alone but did not return that night. Mr. Grow became alarmed the next day, and although he was not well, traveled out of the woods to Norton, a distance of some seven miles.

On Friday morning three men started into the forest to pick up the Lawrence trail in the snow. In the meantime word had reached another hunters' camp a few miles from the Lawrence and Grow camp, in which were D. W. Hildreth of Newport, O. H. Mossman of Barton and Thomas Buzzo and E. C. Skinner of Orleans, the latter being a distant relative of Mr. Lawrence.

Mr. Skinner organized a searching expedition and took up the trail, but Saturday night overtook them in the forest, where they camped, the trail being difficult to follow in places because another hunter had followed Lawrence's tracks for some distance, finally swinging to his own camp, and the searching party, not knowing which track to take, followed the wrong track many miles.

On Sunday morning the Lawrence track was again taken up. It swung toward camp. Soon there were evidences that Mr. Lawrence was not feeling right because he had used his gun as a cane. Soon the gun was found stuck in the snow and a few rods further was the body of Lawrence, face down, only one and one-half miles from camp. He had traveled a distance not to exceed seven miles in all, there were no signs of wandering and he was headed straight for camp, undoubtedly dying on Wednesday afternoon, the day he went out.

The woods was finally gotten out of the woods to Island Pond and to Orleans on Tuesday. The wife and children have the great sympathy of the whole acquaintance.

To know that Mr. Lawrence did not die of starvation, exhaustion or privation and that he might have been overtaken in death wherever he had been is a bit of comfort to his friends after having credited the first rumors that came from the Essex county woods.

Funeral was held Monday in East Albany, where burial also took place.

Rev. G. E. Robbins of Burlington addressed a good-sized union audience in the Congregational church on Sunday evening, using for his subject, "God's Appreciation of Youth." A remarkable study of the great things accomplished by mere youth, the list comprising many of the great figures of history. Mr. Robbins is secretary of the Vermont Sunday school association.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held with Mrs. P. L. Webster on Tuesday afternoon with nine members and one visitor present. Mrs. Cook had charge of the meeting and after devotional exercises the following readings were given: "When Cider Gets a Chance," Mrs. Hutchinson; "Cider as an Alcoholic Drink," Mrs. Comstock; "Revelations of Science Concerning Beer," Mrs. P. L. Webster.

The body of Osmond Dwyer was brought here for burial Tuesday. Mr. Dwyer had been a resident of Barton for a good many years and was a veteran of the Civil war. Mr. Dwyer has been in failing health for some months, and being without relatives, George Humphrey was appointed guardian some time ago. Mr. Dwyer was first given to the care of the Soldiers' Home in Bennington but was later given to the care of the state hospital in Waterbury, where he died. It is hoped to give more particulars regarding his life in a later issue.

The musical afternoon of the Afternoon Study club was held with Mrs. W. W. Miles Thursday, Dec. 4, 16 members and one visitor present. The following were given: Article on the Life of Louise Homer, read by Mrs. Pierce; selections on the Victrola—duet, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," Alma Gluck and Louise Homer; solo, "O Rest in the Lord," Homer; duet, "Abide with Me," Gluck and Homer. Article on the life of Madam Schuman-Heink, read by Mrs. Reiden; two selections on the Victrola—"The Rosary" and "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," Schuman-Heink. The Christmas meeting will be held with Mrs. Underwood, Dec. 18. Each member is asked to bring 10 cents.

A gift for the whole family and enjoyed the whole year—a Sonora Phonograph. Hear it at Searles & Co.

County Sunday School Meeting

At the meeting in Orleans, Dec. 6, in the interests of the work of Orleans County Sunday School association, Rev. G. E. Robbins emphasized the county standard of efficiency which was adopted by our county association several years ago, and which in some years we have almost reached.

Mr. Carpenter, the new president of the association, showed an unusual interest in getting in touch with the work and spoke of his purpose to visit every Sunday school identified with the association.

The division into district organizations was carefully considered and some changes made so that at present Caspian Lake district is to include the Sunday schools in Albany, Craftsbury and Greensboro, with Howard B. Findlay as president; Willoughby Lake district—Barton, Brownington, Glover, Irasburg, Orleans, Westmore, with A. G. Owen as president; Memphremagog district—Coventry, Derby, Newport, Center and Newport City, with Emanuel Richard as president; Missisquoi district—Lowell, Troy, North Troy and Westfield, with Rev. C. E. Hayward as president; Seymour Lake district—East Charleston, West Charleston, Holland, Island Pond, and Morgan, with Leon E. Lewis as president.

Rev. C. W. Kelley of Newport Center was elected elementary superintendent to take the place of Mrs. O. B. Wells, who asked to be excused; and Mrs. Maud Hunt of Westfield was elected secondary superintendent to take the place of Miss Clemma Seaver, who asked to be excused.

The county convention is to be held at North Craftsbury in June, 1920, the specific date to be announced later.

The meeting was closed by prayer by Rev. H. B. Rankin of Newport and all felt that by the Grace of God we will do all that we can for His sake and in His name this coming year.

Five Hunters' Lives Sacrificed.

Vermont's 1919 open season for deer closed Saturday afternoon with a record of five human lives sacrificed and approximately 2,000 deer killed. The human casualty list was increased to five by the death of Mirrell Nutbrown of Westerville Monday, following the deaths of Sarrell Sawyer of Townsend, Wallace Montgomery of Hyde Park and Alexander McKee of Island Pond earlier in the week, and of John Lawrence of Orleans from exposure and exhaustion in the Essex county forests where he became lost on Sunday morning.

L. Elliott and Mrs. Clara Morrill have been quite ill the past week and Hollis Hancock has also been on the sick list.

Mr. Brown of Newport has hired out to work for Homer Wright and has moved his family into Mr. Wright's house.

Mrs. Polie Labell, Mrs. John Wells, Mrs. Harry Manley and Mrs. Ernest Batchelder enjoyed a trip to St. Johnsbury last week.

Mrs. Gertrude Ware went to Irasburg last week to assist in the family of her sister, Mrs. Shepherd, they all being sick with the measles.

News of the death of Clara Dwinell of Orleans, was received Monday. She has many friends in Coventry, whose hearts are filled with sadness.

Mrs. Elbridge Legacy and son, Herman, went to Westmore Friday to visit friends. Herman and his cousin in Cyril, aged 16, went hunting and each got a deer. They felt pretty proud of their good luck.

Anthony Legacy died last week at the home of his son, Elbridge, where he was living. He was 92 years of age Sept. 15th. About 60 years ago he married Miss Rosalie Davis, who died several years ago. Twelve children were born of this union. Nine are now living, Henry of St. Johnsbury, Mrs. May Farman of Boston, Jesse of St. Johnsbury, Elbridge of Coventry, Ora of New York, Mrs. Stanley of East Burke, Inez Whipple of Los Angeles, Mrs. Mabel Legacy of Westmore. He was tenderly cared for by his son and wife. Funeral services were held at the home of Elbridge Legacy, Rev. C. E. Southard officiating.

Card of Thanks—We wish to thank all who so kindly assisted us during the sickness, death and burial of our beloved father. We would especially thank Rev. C. E. Southard for the assistance given us. May God reward you all.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Legacy and family.
